It is the responsibility of the applicant to add @queensu.ca to their safe senders list and to monitor their email and all associated email folders (inbox, spam, junk, etc.) during the application process. This includes ensuring that email inboxes are able to receive incoming mail. Applicants who receive an offer must respond by the deadline stipulated in the email. Any offers not answered by the deadline provided will be set to decline. This action cannot be reversed or changed for any reason. No exceptions. For these reasons, it is important that if you change your email from the one appearing on the OMSAS application you let us know. You may wish to keep a copy for your records.

Information Regarding Police Records Check:

- All students who accept an offer of admission into a Medical, Residency, Nursing, or Rehabilitation Therapy program will provide evidence of a Police Check and Vulnerable Sector Screening, conducted at their expense before they will be permitted to register in the program.
- An applicant or student who submits false, misleading, or incomplete information about a criminal charge or criminal record may be subject to sanction by the School of Medicine and/or the University.
- As all medical students undertake significant portions of their education in settings with exposure to vulnerable populations, students are required to complete and submit the results of a Vulnerable Persons Police Record Check, at their own expense prior to the commencement of Medical School. This process must be initiated through your local police service.

· Police forces may use slightly different language to describe the various levels of Records Checks available. Please be sure that the check you undergo includes at least a check of local records, as well as the RCMP's CPIC, and the register of pardoned sexual offences (vulnerable sector screening). This high level of check is the one required by volunteers and other agencies that serve children and other vulnerable populations. As these checks can take several weeks, we recommend that you begin the process as soon as possible to ensure compliance with our deadline.

· The majority of students will have checks resulting in a "clear" report, indicating that no police record was found. A very few students may receive a "not clear" report. There are many circumstances that could lead to this finding, and each such case will be considered individually. The School of Medicine reserves the right to revoke an offer of admission or cancel registration based on a review of this Report.

· If you have ever been convicted of a criminal offence for which you have not received a pardon, you are strongly urged to consult with your provincial College of Physicians and Surgeons, as medical graduates with criminal records may not be eligible to receive licensure to practice medicine.
